Your Survivor Benefits

The Verizon Survivor Benefits Program offers you and your family financial protection for the unexpected—in the event of a serious accidental injury or death. The Company automatically provides Basic Life Insurance, Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance and Special Accident Insurance.

In addition, you have options for Supplemental Life Insurance for you, as well as Life and AD&D Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner and your eligible children. You will have the opportunity each year to review your choices and make changes, subject to certain Statement of Health Form requirements for increasing coverage, to meet your current needs.

Important Note:

Verizon and its claims and appeals administrators have the discretionary authority to interpret the terms of the Plan and this SPD and determine your eligibility for benefits under their terms.

About This SPD

This document is the summary plan description (SPD) for the Survivor Benefits Program, which includes the following Plans:

- Verizon Group Life Insurance Plan for New York and New England Associates
- Verizon Dependent Group Life Insurance Plan for New York and New England Associates
- Special Accident Insurance Plan.

The Plans are subject to federal law under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and its subsequent amendments. This document meets ERISA's requirements for an SPD and is based on Plan provisions and bargained-for changes effective January 1, 2009. It updates and replaces all previous SPDs and other descriptions of the benefits provided by the Plans. This SPD is a summary of these Plans.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information included in this SPD. Copies of Plan documents are available by contacting the Plan administrator in writing at the address provided in the "Administrative Information" subsection, within the "Additional Information" section.

This SPD is divided into the following major sections:

- Participating in the Plans. This section explains your eligibility, which of your dependents are eligible to be covered and when eligibility ends.
- Life and AD&D Insurance. This section describes your Company-provided coverage, as well as Supplemental Life Insurance that is available to you.
- Special Accident Insurance. This section describes the Company-provided benefit that is paid if you or your spouse dies as a result of an accident that occurs while on Company business.

- Life and AD&D Insurance for Your Dependents. This section describes your available options for providing Life and AD&D Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner and eligible children.
- How to Receive a Benefit. This section provides information on receiving benefits.
- Additional Information. This section provides additional details about the administrative provisions of the Plans and your legal rights.
- Glossary. Certain terms used in this SPD are defined in the glossary.

Verizon Benefits Center

The Verizon Benefits Center offers a Web site called Your Benefits Resources™ where you'll find tools to help you manage your benefits. You can access Your Benefits Resources on the About You page on the Verizon eWeb or on the internet at www.verizon.com/benefits.

The Web site makes finding information fast and easy as it guides you through your benefits transactions. In addition to enrolling on the site, you can:

- Hotlink to other provider sites.
- Review details about your health care and insurance plans.
- Select and update your beneficiary designations.
- Change Your Benefits Resources password.
- Give yourself a helpful "hint" in case you forget your password.

Verizon Benefits Center representatives are available should you have questions about your benefits. To reach the Verizon Benefits Center via telephone, call 1-877-4VzBens. Via this toll-free telephone number, you also can connect with other Verizon benefit providers.

Changes to the Plans

While Verizon expects to continue the Plans indefinitely, Verizon reserves the right to amend, modify, suspend or terminate one or more of the Plans at any time, at its discretion, with or without advance notice to participants, subject to any duty to bargain collectively. The Plans may be amended by publication of any SPD, summary of material modification, enrollment materials or other communication relating to the Plans, as approved by Verizon.

Decisions regarding changes to, or terminations of, benefits are made at the highest levels of management. Verizon employees below those levels do not know whether the Company will adopt any particular change and are not in a position to speculate about such changes. Unless and until changes formally are adopted and officially are announced, no one is authorized to assure that any particular change will or will not occur.

Participating in the Plans

Eligibility

You are eligible for Plan coverage on the first day of the month in which you complete three months of net credited service if you are employed by a Verizon participating company (see the “Additional Information” section) and are a regular, full-time, part-time or eligible temporary New York or New England associate whose employment is covered by a collective bargaining agreement that provides for participation in the Plan.

A temporary employee’s eligibility is governed by the applicable collective bargaining agreements.

“Associate,” as used throughout this summary plan description (SPD) includes any non-management employee.

“Service” means net credited service as defined by the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates.

If you are a retired participant covered under retiree life insurance benefits who is rehired by the Company and you are not a working retiree, you are eligible for active benefits on the first day of the month after your date of rehire.

You are not eligible to participate in the Plans if any one of the following applies:

- You are paid by a temporary staffing or placement agency or other vendor or third party.
- You are employed under the terms of a written agreement with the Company as an independent contractor or consultant.
- You are paid through accounts payable instead of the payroll system.

Note: If a court, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or any other enforcement authority or agency finds that an independent contractor or leased employee should be treated as a regular employee of a participating company, for example, for purposes of W-2 income reporting or tax withholding, such individual is nonetheless expressly excluded from the definition of eligible employee and is expressly ineligible for benefits under the Plans.

The Survivor Benefits Program includes:

- Basic Life Insurance for you
- Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for you
- Supplemental Life Insurance for you
- Dependent Life Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner and eligible children
- Dependent AD&D Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner and eligible children.

In addition, for eligible associates, Special Accident Insurance begins automatically on your date of hire (see the “Special Accident Insurance” section for more information).

Eligible Dependents

For purposes of electing Life Insurance and/or AD&D Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner and dependent children, you can enroll your eligible Class I Dependents who meet the Plan definitions for eligibility.

Class I Dependent Eligibility Requirements

Who They Are	Relationship
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your legal spouse (whether or not legally separated) • Your unmarried children at least 15 days old until the end of the calendar year in which they reach age 19, provided they receive more than 50% of their support from you. Note: If your spouse or same-sex domestic partner also is employed by Verizon, you both may enroll for Supplemental Life Insurance, as well as Spouse and Dependent Child Life Insurance and/or AD&D Insurance.

Enrolling When First Eligible

Initial Enrollment by Newly Hired Associates

You automatically will have Company-provided Basic Life Insurance and AD&D Insurance for yourself on the first day of the month in which you complete three months of service. If you want Supplemental Life Insurance for you and/or Dependent Life or AD&D Insurance for your eligible family members, you must enroll for coverage.

As a newly hired associate or if you change from a management position to an associate position, the Verizon Benefits Center will send enrollment materials with your options and costs indicated for separate elections in Supplemental Life Insurance for you, Spouse Life Insurance, Dependent Child Life Insurance, Spouse AD&D Insurance and Dependent Child AD&D Insurance. Any coverage you elect will be effective:

- On the first day of the month in which you complete three months of net credited service, subject to Statement of Health Form requirements (see below), which may apply depending on the coverage you are electing
- On the first day of the month after your date of rehire if you are a retiree, covered under retiree life insurance, and are rehired by the Company.

Note that if you are not actively at work on the day coverage otherwise would begin, coverage begins on the day you return to active work.

Statement of Health Form Requirements

If you elect Supplemental Life Insurance for yourself during your initial enrollment period by the deadline indicated on your Enrollment Worksheet, you are not required to complete a Statement of Health Form. During subsequent enrollment opportunities, you must complete a Statement of Health Form to start or increase Supplemental Life Insurance.

If you elect the $5,000 or $20,000 Spouse Life Insurance option during your initial enrollment period, your spouse or same-sex domestic partner is not required to complete a Statement of Health Form. If you newly acquire a spouse or same-sex domestic partner, you have 90 days to enroll him or her at these levels without providing a Statement of Health Form. During subsequent enrollment opportunities, your spouse or same-sex domestic partner must submit a Statement of Health Form to start or increase the $5,000 or $20,000 Spouse Life Insurance option. A Statement of Health Form always is required if you elect Spouse Life Insurance in the amount $50,000, $75,000 or $100,000.

When a Statement of Health Form is required for Supplemental Life Insurance or Spouse Life Insurance, your current election will remain in effect until the insurance company approves your new election. Your coverage becomes effective on the first day of the month after the benefits administrator approves the Statement of Health Form, provided you are actively at work on that date; otherwise, it becomes effective on the day you return to active work.

A Statement of Health Form is not required at any time for Spouse and Dependent Child AD&D Insurance.

Beneficiary Designation

Your enrollment materials will include a Beneficiary Designation Form. You can designate your beneficiaries separately for Basic Life Insurance and, if applicable, Supplemental Life Insurance. Your beneficiary is the person, persons, estate or trust that will receive benefits from the Plans if you die. In the event of an accidental death, your AD&D benefits will be paid to the same beneficiary(ies) you designate for Basic Life Insurance. If you suffer a serious qualifying loss in an accident, the AD&D benefit will be paid to you. For Dependent Life and AD&D Insurance, you always are the beneficiary.

You may name anyone as your beneficiary(ies) for Basic Life Insurance and Supplemental Life Insurance. If you choose more than one person, you will need to indicate on your Beneficiary Designation Form the percentage of the benefit you want each primary beneficiary to receive (for example, Joe Smith, 25 percent; Mary Smith, 75 percent). The percentages must total 100 percent. If you do not specify percentages, the benefit will be divided equally among your beneficiaries.

If you do not name a beneficiary, your benefit will be distributed in the following order: Your living spouse, living children (distributed equally), one living parent or living parents (distributed equally). If none of these family members are living, benefits will be paid to your estate.

You also may name a contingent beneficiary(ies) to receive benefits if your primary beneficiary(ies) predeceases you. Keep in mind, a benefit will be paid to a contingent beneficiary only if the primary beneficiary(ies) dies before you.

Managing beneficiary information

You can manage your beneficiary information online or by calling the Verizon Benefits Center. Once you have entered your information online, you can sign on to the Web site at any time after that to review or update your beneficiary information.

Online, go to Your Benefits Resources Web site on the Internet (see your Important Benefits Contacts insert for contact information) or via the eWeb on About You, then:

- From the “Find it Fast” menu, select “Beneficiaries.”
- Choose Basic Life Insurance and follow the instructions.

Once you input your beneficiary designation, your election is effective immediately and the Verizon Benefits Center will send you a confirmation in the mail.

To designate a beneficiary via the Verizon Benefits Center, contact a Verizon Benefits Center representative. The representative will process your designation. Your election is effective immediately and the Verizon Benefits Center will send you a confirmation in the mail.

You also can verify or change your beneficiary designation at any time by accessing Your Benefits Resources Web site or calling the Verizon Benefits Center.

If you previously completed a beneficiary designation form, your beneficiary will be the person you designated on the paper form until you input your beneficiary information via Your Benefits Resources. After you enter your beneficiary information, your online designation will replace your paper designation as your current beneficiary designation.

You are not required to use the online beneficiary management features on the Web site, but doing so is convenient and an efficient way to keep your beneficiary information current.

Assignment of Benefits

You may assign, or name, someone else as the owner of your life insurance policy, even though it is your life that is being insured. You must have the approval of the insurance company to do this. The assignment is irrevocable—you give up all present and future rights, title, interest and ownership to your insurance. The person you assign has absolute and continuing right to name beneficiaries or exercise privileges that otherwise would have been yours.

Note: If your assignee dies, any benefit payable as a result of your death will be paid according to your assignee's beneficiary designation.

Contact the Verizon Benefits Center to request forms to assign your benefits. If you are considering assigning benefits to someone else, you may wish to consult your lawyer or tax advisor because there are various legal and tax implications for doing this.

Changing Your Elections

After your initial enrollment as a new associate (see the "Enrolling When First Eligible" section), you may change your Supplemental Life Insurance, Spouse Life Insurance, Dependent Child Life Insurance, Spouse AD&D Insurance and Dependent Child AD&D Insurance at any time, subject to Statement of Health Form requirements.

For Supplemental Life Insurance coverage, to begin coverage for the first time or increase coverage more than 90 days after your initial enrollment opportunity, you will need to complete a Statement of Health Form to demonstrate evidence of insurability (see "Statement of Health Form Requirements" in the "Enrolling When First Eligible" section).

For Spouse Life Insurance, a Statement of Health Form is not required if you are electing the $5,000 or $20,000 coverage option for a newly eligible spouse or same-sex domestic partner within 90 days of eligibility. Your domestic partner may need to provide an affidavit verifying partnership. Otherwise, you will need to provide a Statement of Health Form before your new election at these levels will be effective. If you elect Spouse Life Insurance in the amount of $50,000, $75,000 or $100,000, a Statement of Health Form always is required, even within the 90-day initial eligibility period.

The change becomes effective on the day you call the Verizon Benefits Center to request the change, unless a Statement of Health Form is required. When a Statement of Health Form is required for Supplemental Life Insurance or Spouse Life Insurance, your current election will remain in effect until the insurance company approves your new election. Your coverage becomes effective on the first day of the month after the benefits administrator approves the Statement of Health Form, provided you are actively at work on that date; otherwise, it becomes effective on the day you return to active work.

A Statement of Health Form is not required at any time for Spouse or Dependent Child AD&D Insurance.

Important Note:

You will be asked to provide the name, Social Security number and date of birth of any new dependent that you cover.

Changes After Your Initial Enrollment

Call the Verizon Benefits Center if you want to change your Supplemental Life Insurance, Spouse Life Insurance, Dependent Child Life Insurance, Spouse AD&D Insurance and/or Dependent Child AD&D Insurance. The Verizon Benefits Center will provide information about the options available and when a Statement of Health Form is required. The following provides guidelines for changes in specific situations:

You Get Married or Acquire a Same-Sex Domestic Partner	If you get married or acquire a same-sex domestic partner, you can add Spouse Life Insurance for your spouse or your same-sex domestic partner. A Statement of Health Form is not required if you are electing the $5,000, or $20,000 coverage option for a newly eligible spouse or same-sex domestic partner within 90 days of eligibility. For a same-sex domestic partnership, you may need to provide an affidavit verifying your new partnership. Otherwise, you will need to provide a Statement of Health Form for approval by the insurance company before your new election at these levels will be effective. If you elect Spouse Life Insurance in the amount of $50,000, $75,000 or $100,000, a Statement of Health Form always is required, even within the 90-day initial eligibility period. Spouse AD&D Insurance does not require a Statement of Health Form. Coverage can be added at any time. If your election requires a Statement of Health Form, coverage is effective on the day your Statement of Health Form is approved. If your election does not require a Statement of Health Form, coverage is effective on the day you call the Verizon Benefits Center to request the change. (See “Statement of Health Form Requirements” in the “Enrolling When First Eligible” section.)
You Gain a Dependent Child	You can start or increase Dependent Child Life Insurance and/or Dependent Child AD&D Insurance at any time. A Statement of Health Form is required for Dependent Child Life Insurance but not for Dependent Child AD&D. Coverage for the first dependent child you enroll will begin on the first day of the month after you call the Verizon Benefits Center to start coverage or 15 days after birth if enrolled within 14 days of birth; coverage for subsequent dependent children you gain while coverage is in effect automatically will begin at age 15 days for a newborn child or the first day of the following month for a newly acquired dependent child.
You Lose a Dependent Through Death, Legal Separation, Divorce or Termination of a Same-Sex Domestic Partnership	If you lose a dependent through death, divorce or termination of a same sex domestic partnership, coverage for that dependent ends at the end of the month in which the event occurs. However, you must notify the Company by calling the Verizon Benefits Center to decrease or stop coverage at that time for Spouse and/or Dependent Child Life Insurance and AD&D Insurance, as appropriate. In the event of a covered family member’s death, you must call the Verizon Benefits Center to apply for any benefit (see your Important Benefits Contacts insert for the telephone number). If you and your spouse become legally separated , coverage for your spouse continues unless you call the Verizon Benefits Center to remove him or her from your coverage. Important Note: If you no longer have eligible dependents—for example, you get divorced or your child reaches the age limit for eligibility—you must call the Verizon Benefits Center to cancel coverage. Otherwise, premium deductions will continue and no coverage will be provided.

A Dependent Loses Eligibility

If a dependent loses eligibility for the Plans, the dependent's coverage will continue until the end of the month in which the event occurs that causes the dependent to lose eligibility. An exception occurs if the dependent is a child who loses eligibility because he or she reaches an age limit for coverage. In this case, the child's coverage will continue until December 31 of the year in which the age limit is reached. However, if the child reaches the age 25 limit and is a full-time student who graduates prior to December 31 of his or her 25th year or no longer maintains his or her full-time student status, his or her coverage will terminate at the end of the month in which he or she loses full-time student status.

When a dependent loses eligibility, you must notify the Company by calling the Verizon Benefits Center before the dependent's coverage ends. You may decrease or stop coverage at that time for Spouse and/or Dependent Child Life Insurance and AD&D Insurance, as appropriate.

Cost of Coverage

The Company pays the full cost of Basic Life Insurance and AD&D Insurance for you. You pay the cost by payroll deduction on an after-tax basis for any Supplemental Life Insurance, Spouse Life Insurance, Dependent Child Life Insurance, Spouse AD&D Insurance or Dependent Child AD&D Insurance that you elect.

As a newly hired associate or if you make a change during the year, the Verizon Benefits Center will provide information that will indicate the cost for each option available to you and your dependents.

The cost for Supplemental Life Insurance is determined by your age as of the last day of the calendar year and by the amount of your coverage, which is based on your Benefit Bearing Wage (BBW) (see "Basic Life Insurance" in the "Life and AD&D Insurance" section). The cost of your coverage automatically will change at the beginning of the year after your pay changes and/or at the beginning of the year in which you reach a new five-year age bracket (starting at age 25).

Note that the cost of Dependent Child Life and AD&D Insurance is the same regardless of the number of eligible children you cover.

Important Information on Spouse Life Insurance Cost

The cost for $50,000, $75,000 and $100,000 life insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner is based on his or her age. If your spouse's or same-sex domestic partner's date of birth is not on file with the Verizon Benefits Center, the cost of coverage that is shown on your Enrollment Worksheet during an enrollment opportunity is based on your date of birth, and you will see a message on your Enrollment Worksheet. If this message appears, you can call the Verizon Benefits Center to provide your spouse's or same-sex domestic partner's date of birth. Then, after you enroll, your confirmation statement will show the actual cost based on his or her age, not your age.

Imputed Income

Under federal tax law, the value of basic insurance coverage over $50,000 is subject to Federal Income and Social Security tax. This value is called imputed income. If you have imputed income, it will be added to your earnings and shown on your W-2 form.

When Participation Ends

This section explains when participation in the Plans ends for you and your dependents.

If You Become Disabled

If you become totally disabled, your coverage under the Survivor Benefits Program will continue for part or all of the time you are unable to work. The length of time coverage continues depends on what other Company-sponsored benefits you are receiving.

If you are receiving Accident Disability benefits, the Company will continue to provide Basic Life and AD&D Insurance coverage for as long as the Accident Disability benefits continue. Supplemental Life Insurance and Spouse and Dependent Child Life and AD&D Insurance may continue if you continue to pay the required premiums.

Dependent Ceases to Meet the Class I Eligibility Requirements	A dependent's coverage will end on the earlier of the date the dependent is covered as an employee under any Company-sponsored Plan and the last day of the month in which the dependent no longer qualifies as a dependent under the Plans, subject to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Coverage for your spouse ends on the last day of the month he or she becomes divorced from you. Coverage for a legally separated spouse will end on the last day of the month following the date you elect coverage to end. • Coverage for a same-sex domestic partner ends on the day he or she fails to meet the definition of a domestic partner. • Coverage for a child ends on the last day of the calendar year in which he or she reaches age 19 (if not a full-time student), or the last day of the month in which the child is married, if earlier. • Coverage for a stepchild ends on the last day of the month in which he or she no longer lives with you or, if earlier, when he or she no longer qualifies as a dependent, as stated under "Class I Dependent Eligibility Requirements" in the "Eligible Dependents" subsection of the "Participating in the Plans" section. • Coverage for a full-time student ends on the earlier of the last day of the calendar year in which the student reaches age 25 or the last day of the month in which he or she no longer qualifies as a full-time student because he or she reduces his or her course load to a level below full time as defined by the educational institution, graduates or otherwise leaves school for reasons other than illness, injury or school vacations. • Coverage for a disabled child ends on the last day of the month in which he or she no longer meets the definition of a disabled child. • Coverage for a child of a same-sex domestic partner ends on the last day of the calendar year (Plan year) in which the child reaches age 19 or age 25 (if a full-time student), as applicable, or the last day of the month in which the child otherwise fails to meet the definition of a child of a same-sex domestic partner (or the same-sex domestic partner no longer meets the definition of a domestic partner) as defined in the "Glossary."

Conversion to an Individual Policy

When your coverage as an active associate under the Survivor Benefits Program ends for any reason other than due to your election to stop coverage while an active associate, you may be eligible to convert all or part of your Basic Life Insurance and your Supplemental Life Insurance, if you have any, to individual policies. You cannot convert your AD&D Insurance or Spouse and Dependent Child Life and AD&D Insurance.

Also, if your Basic Life Insurance is reduced 10 percent a year after you reach age 66, you may convert all or part of the amount of the reduction to an individual policy every time the reduction equals 20 percent of the original coverage. In other words, because the annual reduction each year between ages 66 and 70 is 10 percent, every other year you may convert the past and current year's reduction to an individual policy. However, the amount of any policy issued will not be more than the amount of the reduction.

Converting your insurance under the Survivor Benefits Program means that you have the opportunity to purchase an individual policy from the insurance company at regular rates, not group rates, without taking a medical examination.

To take advantage of this conversion feature, you must apply to the insurance company within 31 days after:

- The date your coverage ends due to the end of your employment
- The date your coverage ends because the Survivor Benefits Program ends, regardless of whether you are an active or retired employee
- The date this program is amended to terminate your eligibility for coverage
- The date your coverage ends because of disability, leave of absence or layoff, as described earlier.

During this 31-day conversion period, your Basic Group Life Insurance and Supplemental Group Life Insurance coverage will continue.

The individual policy to which you may convert your Basic Group Life Insurance and Supplemental Group Life Insurance will meet the following requirements:

- It must be a form of insurance other than the term insurance customarily provided by the insurance company. However, you can elect a non-renewable interim policy for the first year of individual coverage.
- The premium will be calculated based on your class of risk, the form and amount of the individual policy and your age on your birthday nearest to the date of the policy's issue.
- The amount will be equal to (or less than, if you choose) the amount of your life insurance under this program as of the date your 31-day conversion period begins.

There are two exceptions to this last point:

- If your coverage ends because this program ends, the amount of your individual policy will not be more than the amount of your coverage under this program as of the date it ends minus the amount of any coverage for which you are eligible—or for which you may become eligible—under any group policy issued or reinstated by the insurance company within 45 days after the program ends.
- If your coverage ends because the program is amended and you no longer are eligible for coverage, the amount of your individual policy will not exceed the amount of coverage you are eligible for if the program ends, as described above.

Any individual policy issued to you will become effective at the end of the 31-day conversion period. However, if you die during this period, the Plan will pay your beneficiary the maximum amount of life insurance for which an individual policy could have been issued under this provision, whether or not you have applied for an individual policy.

If your coverage ends or is reduced by a cumulative 20 percent, the insurance company automatically will send you a notice of your right to convert your coverage.

Important Note:

For more information or if you have questions about converting coverage, call the insurance company (see your Important Benefits Contacts insert for the telephone number).

Life and AD&D Insurance

Verizon provides a degree of financial security for your family members in the event of your death by automatically providing Basic Life Insurance and Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for you. If you need additional coverage, you can elect Supplemental Life Insurance.

Basic Life Insurance

Verizon automatically provides you with Basic Life Insurance coverage equal to your Benefit Bearing Wage (BBW). BBW includes your annual base pay plus any applicable regular or continuing incentives, awards or commissions, rounded up to the next $1,000. As your BBW changes, your coverage changes automatically as well.

Your BBW is a total of the following yearly pay, rounded up to the next $1,000:

- Your annual base pay, as determined by your company
- Bonuses, incentive and merit awards only if they become a permanent part of your compensation
- Awards made under Corporate Profit Sharing (CPS).

Note: BBW does not include pay for overtime, tour or other temporary differentials.

If You Are Paid Under an Incentive Compensation Plan

If you receive any incentive compensation, such as sales commissions, your Basic Life Insurance is based on your BBW plus your incentive compensation. Your incentive compensation is calculated by taking the total of any actual incentives paid to you in the 36-month period prior to your death. This figure then is divided by 36 (to determine a per-month average) and multiplied by 12 (to calculate an annual amount).

Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance

Verizon automatically provides Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance coverage equal to your BBW if you die as the result of an accident. Your beneficiary will receive the AD&D benefit in addition to other Company-sponsored life insurance you have. AD&D Insurance also provides a benefit to you if you lose your eyesight or suffer a dismembering injury, and your loss is total and permanent, as the result of an accident.

If you suffer a dismembering injury, the benefit amount you receive depends on the extent of your injury, as shown below.

AD&D Benefits
Injury	Plan Pays
Loss of 1 foot, 1 hand or sight in 1 eye	50% of your AD&D coverage
Loss of both feet, both hands, sight in both eyes or any combination of 2 or more dismembering injuries (such as the loss of 1 foot and 1 hand)	100% of your AD&D coverage

Note: “Loss” is defined as follows by the insurance company: For a hand, the hand completely is severed at or above the wrist joint; for a foot, the foot completely is severed at or above the ankle joint; for an eye, the eye entirely is blind and no sight can be restored in that eye.

In order for a benefit to be paid to you or your beneficiary, your injury or death must be the direct result of an accident, as determined by the insurance company, and must occur within 90 days of it. Certain accidents do not qualify for benefits under the Plan (see the “How to Receive a Benefit” section for details).

Supplemental Life Insurance Options

If you need additional life insurance coverage for yourself, Supplemental Life Insurance also is available. You choose from the following options:

Supplemental Life Insurance Options
No supplemental coverage
Additional 1 × your BBW
Additional 2 × your BBW
Additional 3 × your BBW
Additional 4 × your BBW
Additional 5 × your BBW

Your annual cost to buy Supplemental Life Insurance appears on Your Benefits Resources Web site and depends on the coverage level you choose and your age as of December 31 of the current Plan year. The cost of your coverage automatically will change at the beginning of the year after your pay changes and/or at the beginning of the year in which you reach a new five-year age bracket (starting at age 25).

Basic Life, Basic AD&D and Supplemental Life Benefit Example

Assume your BBW is $49,200. Rounding up to the next $1,000, your Basic Life Insurance coverage is $50,000. The chart below shows your Life Insurance coverage depending on the Supplemental Life Insurance option you have in effect. This is the amount that would be paid to your beneficiary if you die from any cause while covered by the Plan.

Basic Coverage	Supplemental Life Insurance Coverage	Total Life Insurance Coverage
$50,000	$ 0	$ 50,000
$50,000	$ 50,000 (1 × BBW)	$100,000
$50,000	$100,000 (2 × BBW)	$150,000
$50,000	$150,000 (3 × BBW)	$200,000
$50,000	$200,000 (4 × BBW)	$250,000
$50,000	$250,000 (5 × BBW)	$300,000

In addition, if your death is accidental, as determined by the insurance company, an additional $50,000 would be paid to your beneficiary as an AD&D benefit.

See “How to Receive a Benefit” for information about filing a claim and payment options.

Accelerated Benefits Option

If you are diagnosed with a terminal illness, up to 50 percent of your Basic and Supplemental Life Insurance may be payable to you under the Accelerated Benefits Option (ABO) to provide additional financial assistance to you and your family. (See “How to Receive a Benefit” for information.)

If You Continue to Work After Age 65

If you still are an active associate at Verizon after you reach age 65:

- Your Basic Life and AD&D Insurance will be reduced by 10 percent each year for five years until you reach age 70. The reduction in coverage begins the first day of the month after you turn age 66.
- Your Supplemental Life Insurance coverage can continue at the full level based on the option you choose as long as you pay the costs. There are no reductions in Supplemental Life Insurance coverage while you continue working after age 65.

Special Accident Insurance

If you or your spouse dies in an accident while on Company business, you or your beneficiaries may be eligible to receive a benefit under the Special Accident Insurance Plan. This Plan pays a benefit in addition to your Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance coverage. If you are an eligible associate under the Survivor Benefits Program, Special Accident Insurance coverage automatically is provided by the Company on your date of hire at no cost to you.

Benefit Coverage for You

Special Accident Insurance pays a benefit if you die as a result of an accident while you are:

- Performing the duties of your job as assigned by the Company
- Performing duties as directed by a proper Verizon authority
- Voluntarily protecting the Company's property or interests.

You automatically are covered by this Plan when your pay as defined under the Accident Death Benefit provision of the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates is at least $16,666.67. The coverage provided by the Plan is based on your pay, as shown here:

Special Accident Insurance Coverage
Your Pay	Your Coverage
Between $16,666.67 and $50,000	3 years' pay minus $50,000
$50,000 or more	2 years' pay

Any benefit payment is determined in combination with the Accident Death Benefit provision of the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates. The Accident Death Benefit provision of the Pension Plan will provide $50,000 or one year's pay if greater. The remaining benefit will be paid by the Special Accident Insurance Plan.

Benefit Coverage for Your Spouse

The Plan pays you up to $50,000 if your spouse dies or becomes dismembered as a direct result of a covered accident during a trip that was requested by and paid for by the Company. The injury must occur within one year of the date of the accident.

You must be legally married to receive this benefit. If your spouse is a Verizon employee who also is covered under this Plan, you do not receive a spouse's benefit in addition to the regular Special Accident Insurance benefits.

Special Accident Insurance Beneficiaries

For Special Accident Insurance coverage, your beneficiaries are:

- Your spouse, if you are legally married when you die
- Your unmarried, dependent children under age 23 or over age 23 if the child physically or mentally is incapable of self-support
- Your dependent parent(s), if living with you or in a household you financially support.

No benefit is paid if you do not have a qualifying beneficiary at the time of your death.

Special Accident Insurance Exclusion

Benefits are not payable under the Special Accident Insurance Plan if your death is the result of:

- Intentionally self inflicted injuries, while sane or insane
- Suicide or attempted suicide, while sane or insane
- Taking part in a felony
- Nuclear war, or war between the United States and the states of the former Soviet Union, China, France or United Kingdom
- Service in the armed forces of any country
- Illness, disease, pregnancy, childbirth, miscarriage or any bacterial infection other than a bacterial infection that is a direct result of an accidental cut or wound.

Life and AD&D Insurance for Your Spouse and Dependent Children

You may want protection from financial burdens that could accompany the unexpected death of a spouse or child. Spouse and Dependent Child Life Insurance and Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance options offer you several levels of coverage from which to choose.

Life Insurance for Spouse and Dependent Children

You can choose Spouse Life Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner, subject to MetLife’s requirements, and Dependent Child Life Insurance for your dependent children or dependent children of your same-sex domestic partner who qualify as Class I Dependents (see “Participating in the Plans”). You choose from the following options:

Spouse Life Insurance Options
No coverage
$ 5,000
$ 20,000
$ 50,000
$ 75,000
$100,000

Dependent Child Life Insurance Options
No coverage
$ 1,500
$ 5,000
$10,000
$15,000
$20,000

Important:

If you and your spouse or same-sex domestic partner both are employed by Verizon, you both may enroll for Spouse and Dependent Child Life and AD&D Insurance at the highest level.

If Your Spouse or Same-Sex Domestic Partner Is Diagnosed With a Terminal Illness

If your spouse or same-sex domestic partner is diagnosed with a terminal illness, up to 50 percent of Spouse Life Insurance, to a maximum of $50,000, may be payable to you under the Accelerated Benefits Option (ABO) to provide additional financial assistance to you and your family. You must have $20,000 or more of Spouse Life Insurance coverage in order to meet the ABO minimum payment requirement. (See the “Accelerated Benefits Option” subsection in the “How to Receive a Benefit” section for information.)

AD&D Insurance for Spouse and Dependent Children

You can elect Spouse AD&D Insurance for your spouse or same-sex domestic partner, subject to MetLife’s requirements, and Dependent Child AD&D Insurance for your dependent children or dependent children of your same-sex domestic partner. This insurance pays benefits if your dependent dies solely as the result of an accident or suffers certain accidental injuries. You choose from the following options:

Spouse AD&D Insurance Options
No coverage
$ 5,000
$ 20,000
$ 50,000
$ 75,000
$100,000

Dependent Child AD&D Insurance Options
No coverage
$ 1,500
$ 5,000
$10,000
$15,000
$20,000

In order for a benefit to be paid for Spouse or Dependent Child AD&D Insurance, the injury or death must be the direct result of an accident as determined by the insurance company and occur within 90 days of the accident.

If your covered family member dies as a result of an accident, you will receive an AD&D benefit. Certain accidents do not qualify for benefits under the Plan (see “How to Receive a Benefit”).

If your covered spouse or same-sex domestic partner or dependent child suffers a dismembering injury, the benefit amount you receive depends on the extent of the injury, as shown below:

AD&D Benefits
Injury	Plan Pays
Loss of 1 foot, 1 hand or sight in 1 eye	50% of your AD&D coverage
Loss of both feet, both hands, sight in both eyes or any combination of 2 or more dismembering injuries (such as the loss of 1 foot and 1 hand)	100% of your AD&D coverage

Note: The definition of “loss” is the same as under your AD&D coverage (see the “Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance” subsection in the “Life and AD&D Insurance” section).

See the “How to Receive a Benefit” section for information about filing a claim and payment options in the event a covered spouse, same-sex domestic partner or dependent child dies.

How to Receive a Benefit

When a Benefit Is Paid

Benefits from the Plans can be paid to your beneficiary in different ways. You and your beneficiary should be aware of the differences in payment.

Basic Life Insurance and Supplemental Life Insurance coverage pays a benefit to your beneficiary(ies) upon your death, no matter what the cause. Spouse and Dependent Child Life Insurance coverage pays a benefit to you upon the death of a covered dependent, no matter what the cause. In addition, the Accelerated Benefits Option (ABO) can provide payment of up to 50 percent of Life Insurance if you or a covered spouse is diagnosed as terminally ill.

Benefits from the Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Plan are paid when you or a covered spouse, same-sex domestic partner or dependent child dies or suffers a qualifying injury solely as a result of an accident. However, AD&D benefits will not be paid if death or loss is the result of:

- Disease
- Medical or surgical treatment or diagnosis of an injury or disease
- Physical or mental illness and diagnosis of or treatment for such illness
- The use of any drug or medicine
- Certain infections
- Any act of war, declared or undeclared
- Suicide or attempted suicide
- An accident suffered as a result of being in a moving aircraft (including a private plane) while being trained, training others or working as a paid or unpaid crew member. Note: This exclusion applies to Spouse and Dependent Child AD&D Insurance coverage only.

In addition, the Plan does not pay benefits for losses or death that is caused by behavior that significantly increases the risk of death or injury. Examples of such behavior include:

- Driving a vehicle while intoxicated, as defined by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the vehicle is being operated
- Committing or trying to commit a felony, other serious crime or an assault.

Important Note:

Your beneficiary may be eligible to receive a Sickness Death Benefit if you meet certain conditions described in the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates. For specific information and eligibility provisions on the sickness death benefit, refer to the Verizon Pension Plan for New York and New England Associates summary plan description (SPD), "Sickness Death Benefit" section.

Accelerated Benefits Option

The Accelerated Benefits Option (ABO) is designed to provide you and your family with important financial assistance in the event you are diagnosed with a terminal illness. "Terminal" is defined by the insurance company as an injury or illness that results in a life expectancy of six months or less with no reasonable prospect for recovery. The ABO also applies to your spouse if you choose Spouse Life Insurance coverage of $20,000 or more.

You can receive payment of up to 50 percent of your Life Insurance coverage (Basic and Supplemental combined) with a payment minimum of $5,000 and a limit of $250,000. Or, you can receive payment of up to 50 percent of coverage, to a maximum of $50,000, for a spouse or same-sex domestic partner who qualifies for an accelerated benefit under Spouse Life Insurance.

To apply for an ABO payment, call the Verizon Benefits Center to request an ABO package. You will need to complete the application form and provide verification from your attending physician that you or, if applicable, your spouse or same-sex domestic partner has been diagnosed with a terminal illness. You return the completed application directly to the insurance company, and you will receive a letter from the insurance company notifying you of its decision.

Note the following about the ABO:

- You can receive an ABO payment only once under any one coverage.
- Any payment you receive will reduce your Life Insurance coverage amount otherwise available.
- Your share (if any) of the cost for the coverage you have in effect will not be reduced because of the ABO payment.
- An ABO payment has no effect on AD&D coverage.

You are not eligible to receive an ABO payment in these situations:

- Your terminal condition is the result of an intentionally self-inflicted injury or suicide attempt.
- Your coverage has been assigned.
- The Life Insurance payment will be made to a former spouse as part of a divorce agreement.
- You or your spouse is required by a government agency to request an ABO payment in order to get or keep a government benefit or entitlement.

You should consult a tax advisor before making a decision to request an ABO payment.

How Benefits Are Paid

In general, the benefits from the Survivor Benefits Program are paid in one of two ways:

- If the benefit is less than $5,000, it will be paid in a lump sum.
- If the benefit is $5,000 or more, it will be placed in an interest-bearing money market account. Beneficiaries will have immediate checkbook access to this account.

Situations That Can Affect Payment

The status of your beneficiary information can affect how payments are made. For example:

- If you have more than one beneficiary, benefits are either paid in a lump sum or deposited in a money market account for each beneficiary. Payments to an estate or trustee will be made in a lump sum.
- If your beneficiary dies before you, that person's estate or heirs have no rights to the benefit from your Plan. All or part of your benefit then may be paid to your living spouse, living children (distributed equally), one living parent or living parents (distributed equally). If none of these family members are living, benefits will be paid to your estate.
- If you didn't name a beneficiary, benefits are paid to your living spouse, living children (distributed equally), one living parent or living parents (distributed equally). If none of these family members are living, benefits will be paid to your estate.

Note: If you have assigned your Group Life Insurance (see the "Assignment of Benefits" subsection in the "Enrolling When First Eligible" section) and the assignee dies before you, any benefit payable as a result of your death will be made to the assignee's designated beneficiary(ies) or estate unless the Group Life Insurance has been reassigned to you prior to the death of the assignee. Also, note that reassigning the policy may not result in a change in beneficiary from the previous assignment. You will need to complete a new Beneficiary Designation Form after the policy has been reassigned.

Applying for Benefits

Verizon will assist you or your beneficiary in applying for a benefit.

If you or your beneficiary is entitled to benefits from one or more of these Plans, call the Verizon Benefits Center (see your Important Benefits Contacts insert for the telephone number). The Verizon Benefits Center's Beneficiary Support Team will provide the appropriate information and form(s) to be completed and returned to them. The Beneficiary Support Team will forward your claim to the insurance company and will answer any questions while your claim is being processed.

Special Procedure for AD&D Claims

If you suffer a qualifying physical loss and may be eligible to receive a benefit under the AD&D Plan, you must file written notice with the insurance company within 20 days after the accident occurs. Proof of the loss must be provided within 90 days after the date of the loss.

If written notice or proof is not given in time, the claim still will be accepted by the insurance company as long as you can show that notice or proof was given as soon as you were able.

A doctor appointed by the insurance company may need to examine you during the course of treatment to confirm your accidental dismemberment claim for an AD&D benefit. In the case of death, an autopsy may be required where it is allowed by law.

If Your Benefits Are Denied

If your claim for benefits is denied, you or your beneficiary is entitled to a written explanation of the denial. You also may file a written request for review of the decision. For details, refer to the “Administrative Information” subsection in the “Additional Information” section.

Subrogation and Third-Party Reimbursement

If you recover any charges for covered expenses from a third party (for example, as a result of a lawsuit from an automobile accident), the Plan’s provision for subrogation and reimbursement takes effect. Under these procedures, the claims administrator’s subrogation vendor tries to recover money that has been paid (or should be paid) on behalf of a third party (the other driver, in this example) whose negligence or wrongful actions caused illness or injury to a Plan participant. In this example of a car accident, should the Plan provide benefits because of your accident, the Plan has the right to recover the amount of those benefits from the negligent person or by obtaining a reimbursement from that person’s insurance company—or from you if settlement amounts have been paid to you by the negligent person or his or her insurer.

The subrogation and reimbursement provisions also mean that if you make a liability claim against a third party after you have received benefits from the Plan, you must include the amount of these benefits as part of the damages you claim. If the claim proceeds to a settlement or judgment in your favor, you must reimburse the Plan for the benefits you received. You and your dependents must grant a lien to the Plan and you and your dependents must assign to the Plan any benefits received under any insurance policies or other coverages. As a condition of eligibility for benefits, you and your dependents must agree to cooperate with the claims administrator’s subrogation vendor in carrying out the Plan’s subrogation and reimbursement rights. Cooperation means you must respond promptly and fully with inquiries from the claims administrator’s subrogation vendor and take what action the claims administrator’s subrogation vendor requests to help recover the value of benefits provided under the Plan. If you don’t, any amounts which could have been recovered through subrogation may be deducted from future Plan payments. In any case, Verizon will require payment from you only for amounts recovered that are net of your legal costs related to the action.

The covered person must sign any documents requested by the Plan to enable the Plan to exercise its rights under this provision.

The Plan is not responsible for your legal costs.

Right of Recovery

If, for any reason, the Verizon Plan pays a benefit that is larger than the amount allowed, the claims administrator has a right to recover the excess amount from the person or agency who received it. The person receiving benefits must produce any instruments or papers necessary to ensure this right of recovery.

Additional Information

Claims and Appeals Procedures

The authority and discretion to designate each of the claims and appeals administrators is granted to the Verizon Claims Review Committee (VCRC) and to the individuals who chair this committee. At the time of publication of this summary plan description (SPD), there are two claims and appeals administrators for the Plans.

There are two types of claims: eligibility claims and benefit claims. See below for more information.

Claims Regarding Eligibility to Participate in the Plans

At this time, for eligibility related claims, the claims and appeals administrator is the VCRC

Eligibility claims should be directed to the Verizon Claims Review Unit at:

Verizon Claims Review Unit
P.O. Box 1438
Lincolnshire, IL 60069 1438

Eligibility appeals should be directed to the Verizon Claims Review Committee c/o the Verizon Claims Review Unit at:

Verizon Claims Review Committee
c/o Verizon Claims Review Unit
P.O. Box 1438
Lincolnshire, IL 60069-1438

Claims Regarding Scope/Amount of Benefits Under the Plans

At this time, for benefit related claims, the VCRC has delegated its authority to finally determine claims to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife), which has discretionary authority to determine claims and appeals for Plan benefits.

The addresses of the claims and appeals administrators for the Plans are listed under “Claims and Appeals Administrators” in the “Administrative Information” section. If you have a claim or appeal, you should contact the appropriate claims and appeals administrator for the type of claim or appeal you have.

The claims and appeals administrators have discretionary authority to:

- Interpret the Plans based on their provisions and applicable law and make factual determinations about claims arising under the Plans
- Determine whether a claimant is eligible for benefits

- Decide the amount, form and timing of benefits
- Resolve any other matter under the Plans that is raised by a participant or a beneficiary, or that is identified by either the claims or appeals administrator.

The claims and appeals administrators have sole discretionary authority to decide claims under the Plans and review and resolve any appeal of a denied claim. In case of an appeal, the claims and appeals administrators' decisions are final and binding on all parties to the full extent permitted under applicable law, unless the participant or a beneficiary later proves that a claims and appeals administrator's decision was an abuse of administrator discretion.

If a benefit is denied

Disagreements about benefit eligibility or benefit amounts can arise. If the Verizon Benefits Center is unable to resolve the disagreement, Verizon has formal appeal procedures in place for ERISA-covered plans. The procedure is slightly different, depending on whether you have an "eligibility" claim or a "benefit" claim. An eligibility claim is a claim to participate in a plan or plan option or to change an election to participate during the year. A benefit claim is a claim for a particular benefit under a plan. It typically will include your initial request for benefits.

Your Rights Under ERISA

As a participant in the Plans, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). ERISA provides that all Plan participants shall be entitled to the following:

Receive Information About Your Plan and Benefits

- Examine, without charge at the Plan administrator's office and at other specified locations, such as worksites and union halls, all documents governing the plans, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the Plans with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
- Obtain, upon written request to the Plan administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the Plans, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated summary plan description (SPD). The administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.
- Receive a summary of the Plans' annual financial reports. The Plan administrator is required by law to furnish you with a copy of this summary annual report.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the persons who are responsible for the operation of the employee benefit plans. The people who operate your Plans, called “fiduciaries” of the Plans, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan participants and beneficiaries.

No one, including your employer, your union or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a benefit is denied or ignored in whole or in part, you have the right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights.

For instance, if you request a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plans and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Plan administrator.

If you have a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court.

If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plans’ money or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor or you may file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees (for example, if it finds your claim to be frivolous).

Assistance With Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Plans, you should contact the Plan administrator. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan administrator, you should contact the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory; or write to:
